W. Europe Asks More Trade With Satellites

Expect Request To Be Subject At May Big 3 Conference

FRANKFURT, Germany, April 8—(AP)—Western European countries want freer trade with Soviet Russia and her Eastern European satellites.

A request for relaxation of the barriers imposed by the United States under the Marshall plan is expected to come up at the May conference of French, British and American foreign ministers in London.

Authoritative sources say several of the more industrialized Western European countries are anxious to lift some of the bars on trade with their traditional markets to the East because they cannot find markets for their manufactures elsewhere.

Many American European aid officials are said to back this claim. They believe the State Department blacklist on potential war materials is doing more economic harm than good to Europe's rehabilitation.

This view is supported by the argument that American taxpayers, through the Marshall plan, have to make up the deficits created by the ban on this age-old East-West trade.

Informants here said the ministers are expected also to discuss these other problems:

1. U.S. demands for Western European nations to drop the trade and tariff walls that separate each other.

2. U.S. pressure on West European nations to bring Germany quickly into their political and economic organizations, and to give the Bonn government more voice in its foreign affairs.

3. Proposals for a unified American, British and French policy on German unity to meet Soviet propaganda claims.

4. New discussions of ways and means to end the state of war with Germany.

Any liberalization of East-West trade would directly aid West Germany, whose industrial production has its natural market in East Europe.

U. S. To Establish Guided Missile Base

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—The Air Force has received $10,000,000 this year for a huge guided missile proving ground in Florida. It plans to ask Congress for $6,000,000 more in 1951.

A hint of future planning, which indicates the emphasis being placed on guided missile development, was contained in the report of hearings released today by the House military appropriations subcommittee.

Assistant Secretary of Defense McNeil told the law makers "there is in progress for submission to Congress the public works bill for 1951. In that bill there is a request for approximately $6,000,000 for Banana River."

The Bureau of the Budget on March 23 made available to the air force the second $5,000,000 installment on the testing range that will be used by the Army, Navy and Air Force.

In passing legislation setting up the range last year, Congress gave the Air Force, which has been assigned the responsibility for constructing it, an original $5,000,000.

At that time Congress authorized the Air Force to transfer the second $5,000,000 from other projects to its research and development funds. This is the cash just made available.

Simple 'Buzzing Blowtorch' Gives 'Copter Its Power

At Manhattan Beach, Calif., pilot Al Bayer, right, starts a trial flight in the "Top Sergeant," experimental helicopter powered by pulse-jet engines located on tips of its rotors. A mechanic starts the jets by injecting fuel directly into them. Below, engineer Alan Thompson holds two of the simple parts that make the pulse-jet engines work. At left is a reed device through which air is pumped, and at right a model airplane sparkplug which fires the fuel. At right below, Thompson shows the lightness of the engines. The two 25-pound units do the same work as the heavy reciprocating engine before him. Lightness of the pulse-jets enables the "Top Sergeant" to lift twice the payload of conventional engines.

World Easter Rites Set Joy Of Christian Story Revived

The joy of Easter will be celebrated wherever Christians gather tomorrow, bringing to their hearts the ever-hopeful message of the risen Christ.

In the great cathedrals of the old world and the new, in village churches and at hilltop services, the devout will keep Easter more to mark the miracle of the resurrection.

Millions will observe the occasion in other ways, too. It will be a day for fine dress and flowers, and for children's games and Easter baskets.

The weather was expected to be fair in some sections—the New England states, the Pacific northwest and in Florida.

But for the rest of the country, the U. S. Weather Bureau predicted cloudiness and some showers.

Celebrations already were in progress in ancient Jerusalem, where nearly 20 centuries ago Christ suffered, died, and rose.

Bells thundered out their Easter messages from the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, and from dozens of other churches, and thousands gathered to pray.

More than 100,000 pilgrims thronged the streets of Rome where the climax of the Easter observance will come when Pope Pius XII celebrates a Pontifical mass in St. Peter's.

At its end, from the central loggia of the Basilica, Pope Pius will give his Apostolic blessing to the city and the world.

In Washington, D. C., where the hopes of millions in the politically divided world are turned, 250,000 visitors are expected for the day. Many were there not only for Easter but also for the delayed Blossom Festival.

Police in New York marshaled a force of 639 just to handle the Easter parade on Fifth ave.—always a colorful event. Thousands wearing their most festive attire, traditionally throng the midtown Manhattan area in the vicinity of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

Two trucks were arrested and fined for overloads. Justice of the Peace Clara Gardner of Edinburg fined Joseph P. Andriewski, 41, of Youngstown $55 and costs and Francis E. Lenihan, 34, of Weymouth, Mass., $50 and costs. George F. Minarick, 22, of 999 Prospect st. was fined $15 and costs by Mayor Harry Vincent for speeding on Route 62 near Alliance.

Easter Restoration

(AN EDITORIAL)

THE great triumph of Christian hope is commemorated by the Easter ceremony. Its significance can be shared, as all things in Christendom should be, by all men.

Easter has become increasingly in recent years what it was even before the advent of Christ and his teaching of a religion of redemption transformed it from a pagan holiday into a profoundly solemn occasion for his followers through all ages to come.

It is a time for the restoration of human hope. It is a time when things which have seemed impossible become possible again through faith.

Christianity has provided two periods of spiritual climax—Christmas and Easter. They concern the two experiences common in all human lives—the promise that is present at birth and the fulfillment of that promise in maturity. That is why Christmas and Easter can be shared by all men, regardless of religious belief.

It is especially why they can respond to the significance of Easter; it is a compound of triumph and defeat, of joy and sadness, of compassion and cruelty, of redemption and disappointment. But the balance is favored always by hope—the unique contribution which Christianity offers to all men who would draw strength from the infinite resources of the spirit.

Chicagoan Lives After Car Rolled Into A Ball By Train

CHICAGO, April 8—(INS)—A Chicago man was trapped today when his auto was rolled up like a ball between a locomotive and a warehouse wall, but was pulled from the wreckage apparently still alive more than five hours later.

Firemen, who ripped apart the twisted, tangled mass, said no one else was in the car with the unidentified man. Earlier firemen said they could see the legs of what they believed were two women in the wreckage.

Bells thundered out their Easter messages from the Basilica of the Holy Sepulchre, and from dozens of other churches, and thousands gathered to pray.

The man had mumbled in his plight about his wife, mother and sister, spurring efforts by firemen and policemen.

At its end, from the central loggia of the Basilica, Pope Pius will give his Apostolic blessing to the city and the world.

In Washington, D. C., where the hopes of millions in the politically divided world are turned, 250,000 visitors are expected for the day. Many were there not only for Easter but also for the delayed Blossom Festival.

News Of The Churches

Churches Announce Programs
For Easter Sunday Services

ALLELUIA! Christ is risen! The glad tidings proclaimed by an angel to the women who came early to the tomb on that first Easter morning are still vibrating with joy. In fact, Easter is the day of days on the Christian calendar, because the resurrection of Jesus Christ, the Redeemer, gives to the world its only hope of immortality.

Nature, too, is rejoicing in resurrection power as seen in the unfolding flowers, springing grass and budding trees.

Easter day is victory day—the day of victory over sin and death, for Jesus and His followers.

Praises to the victorious living Christ will be sung by hundreds of Salem churchgoers Sunday, who are expected to pack the places of worship for the Easter observance.

At the break of dawn scores of young people in this city and vicinity will wend their way to sunrise services.

Sunrise Services

AN EASTER SUNRISE service for Salem youth is scheduled for 6:15 a. m. in the Presbyterian Church. Sponsored by Presbyterian, Methodist, Christian and Baptist young people, the general theme will be "Youth Looks At Easter."

Bill Weber will discuss "The Cross," and Phil Hunter "The Resurrection," while John Votaw's topic will be "New Life For Us."

This is a district meeting of the Friends young people. Rev. Sherman Brantingham, pastor of the Winona Friends Church, will direct the music, while Rev. Owen Glassburn of Beloit will be the speaker. The Salem group will return to the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stratton of Buckeye ave. for an Easter breakfast.

WHAT THE CROSS MEANS' will be the topic for the sunrise service sponsored by the Nazarene Young People's Society at 6:30 a. m., which is open to all age groups. Edward Shoff, president, will preside.

The program arranged by Mrs. Edward Wilson includes these numbers:

Vocal duet, Margaret and Avon Weaver; trumpet solo, Jack Thorne; with Jean Sell at the piano; vocal duet, Mrs. Edward Shoff and Mrs. Edward Wilson; piano solo, Miss Mildred Shoff; talks will be given by Louis Zeigler, Edward Shoff, Mrs. "O Bells In The Steeple," Carol

THE EASTER STORY under the theme, "The Light of The Cross," will be dramatized at the sunrise service at 6:30 a. m. in the Holy Trinity Lutheran church. Sponsored by the young people, there will be a program on the subject "Memories of an Eventful Week." Ray Nichols and Larry Stoffer will be ushers.

FESTIVAL OF THE RESURRECTION of Christ will be celebrated by the Emmanuel Lutheran Church at 7 a. m. This will be the congregation's big service of the day.

The pastor, Rev. John Bauman, will use for his sermon subject, "Easter Speaks To The Modern World." The mixed choir, directed by Mrs. W. J. Seeman, will sing, "The Lord Reigneth." The newly confirmed children and adults will receive their first communion, in the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Confident Living

By DR. NORMAN VINCENT PEALE

Life's Greatest Adventure

ONE tragic night, some 38 years ago, a mighty ship was crossing the North Atlantic. It was her maiden voyage. She was the pride of Britain's fleet, the greatest ship afloat. Gay parties were in progress in her cabins. Laughter and music floated out over the starlit waters. Happiness and joy were everywhere as moonlight not dispel it. As Shakespeare points out, death is "the undiscovered country from whose bourn no traveler returns." On the waters, the great engines throbbed as, all lights ablaze, the vessel glided through the calm seas.

Gradually the air grew chill, but those on deck thought it only the freshness of a spring night. Suddenly a dark green thing of terrifying size loomed dead ahead in the path of the ship.

The helmsman put the wheel hard over, but no power on

Dr. Peale earth could stop that momentum or avoid that violent crash.

There was no escape for the Titanic. And then came scenes of immortal heroism as human beings faced eternity. The ship's lights went out, but on slanting decks the frightened passengers were hushed by the solemn strains of the band playing "Nearer My God To Thee." Just before the waves swallowed the ship, a little group stood together and one of them said in a quiet voice, "We are about to enter upon life's greatest adventure."

This column is known as "Confident Living," but to gain confidence in living, we must know something about dying, for dying is a tremendously important part of living. There is no one of us who does not have to face it, for himself and for his loved ones. Each of us, some time, will long for the touch of a vanished hand and the sound of a voice that is stilled. In every family circle comes the time when there must be an empty chair.

WE CAN live confidently if we realize that death is but a stage in life, a change into a different form of existence, like the caterpillar changing into the butterfly, or a door opening into a larger life. In a world of miracles—television, atomic and jet power, modern electronics, to mention only a few—it is not too difficult to believe in the greatest miracle of them all, life after death.

We cannot prove the truth of this, but by the same rule, we can in God's hand, try to do His will, and, as Socrates said, "No real harm can come to a man in this world or the next."

The greatest gift that faith can offer you is this promise of life eternal, life beyond the grave.

At no time does faith sound its trumpets of victory more triumphantly than now, at Easter. Listen to the great words that have come ringing down through the centuries. Listen to the promise of faith:

"I am the resurrection and the life: he that believeth in me, though he were dead, yet shall he live: and whosoever liveth and believeth in me shall never die."

This is the promise that makes it possible for us to drive away our fears of the shadows ahead.

It is this faith that allows us to say as we face life's greatest adventure, "O death, where is thy sting? O grave, where is thy victory?"

"My lands... How you've grown..."

Brass Tacks

NO crystal ball is needed to see what's just ahead in the field of confusion that's littered with unemployment statistics. The American public is going to be hoodwinked and bulldozed by some of the weirdest interpretations of the statistics that can be thought up by special pleaders.

No one understands what unemployment is; that was demonstrated during the latest depression and during the latest war. But there is beginning to be more understanding about what unemployment isn't. For one thing, it isn't merely a statistic. Unemployment is a relationship between two conditions—employment and unemployment. This relationship is imperfectly reflected in statistics. If the statistics were better—and, if they could be kept out of the hands of people who distort them—more would be known about unemployment. Some of the weird interpretations could be challenged more successfully.

In the meantime, here are a few brass-tack facts about unemployment, now beginning to be the topic of the times in Washington:

Ten years ago there were about 18 adult persons without employment for every 100 persons with employment. That was an unhealthy relationship between employment and unemployment. It didn't justify enough production to keep the wheels turning.

At the climax of World War II, when almost everybody had a job or wore a uniform, less than two persons were idle for every hundred persons who were busy. That was a freak ration. Today there are about seven idle persons for every hundred busy ones. In 1930 there were about 10. At the height of the prosperity period of the Twenties, there were three.

It's the ratio that counts, not the total number of employed or unemployed. That's obvious, but it will be ignored presently by those who plan to use "unemployment" as the lever to overcome resistance to all kinds of schemes for spending public money at an accelerated rate.

Dynamite Cap

GERMAN prisoners of war being sent home from Russian camps are quoted by the Associated Press to the effect that Russians are awaiting military attack by the United States.

This could be evidence of the historic miscalculation of the second half of the 20th century. Twice in the first half of the century, Europe's dominant military power made the mistake of believing the United States wouldn't fight if attacked. Kaiser Wilhelm and Adolph Hitler, both grossly misinformed about the United States, made honest mistakes. They knew no better. In their ignorance, they didn't even know enough to doubt the sources which misinformed them.

Stalin and his associates in the Kremlin are at least as ignorant as the Kaiser and the Fuehrer. Besides being badly informed, they are blinded by the prejudice of the international conspiracy of the Communist movement against all other human organizations. It would be dangerous over-simplification to assume they might be building up a war party in the Soviet Union merely as part of their master plan of propaganda. In all probability, they actually believe the United States is getting ready to attack Russia. That "likelihood" has been hammered into them by every Marxist zealot since Karl Marx, who preached that capitalism must start wars to avert its own collapse.

The dynamite cap which could set off the next great international explosion is Russian ignorance of the United States. The Kremlin, if it is leading a war party, may become the victim of its own ignorance—the first casualty of the military fever it is generating.

Caution: Blasting

THE gist of Owen Lattimore's latest retort to Senator McCarthy's allegations is that the Senator should resign. Nothing, of course, is further from Senator McCarthy's thoughts, which suggests it may be time to comprehend the probable net result of the excitement he has stirred up.

To date he has succeeded in maneuvering the Truman administration into a position it doesn't like and hasn't been accustomed to occupying—position of defending itself on foreign policy. The administration and its apologists are screaming, "Foul!" and warning that it is unpatriotic to do such a thing. They say that foreign governments will not be able to understand it and therefore will lose confidence in the United States. They further say that the Kremlin is having a good laugh at America's expense. And they go on to say a great many other things, all calculated to put Senator McCarthy in a bad light. Being old hands at this sort of thing, they know they can depend on radio comedians and others who traffic in current events to join the hue and cry; it never fails.

This attitude of injured dignity is all part of the administration's plan to counter-blast Senator McCarthy's blasts. It should be recognized for what it is and appraised on that basis. Contrary to what the counter-blasters would like the public to think, Senator McCarthy has not attacked something which is flawless and shouldn't even be questioned. The Democratic party's foreign policy is not above criticism, nor are the party's insiders beyond reproach. They're subject to the give-and-take of a two-party system of politics, and the sooner the public gets used to that the sooner it will know better than to cringe and wince whenever Senator McCarthy tees off on a Lattimore and a Lattimore demands Senator McCarthy's resignation. Years ago, before World War II, this sort of thing used to be as commonplace as potato soup on wash day.

Loosen Up, Ladies!

NEW YORK A MANHATTAN dress designer gave this tip today to American women on how to be beautiful:

"Throw away your girdles and brassieres."

And the designer, Raymond Marinelli, who has dressed some of the world's loveliest ladies, also came out with a full-chested veto of what the girls call the "universal or upstanding bustline."

"This turns them from individual women into a row of acorns," he said pointedly. "That is bad."

This may be heresy to feminine ears—that it's wrong for all dames to look the same. Ordinary men have complained for some time that, in a land where each make of motor car has a different chassis, women have standardized their bosom shapes so much they've become as similar as Martini olives.

But the gals have paid no heed to these howls. Maybe they figured they would run less gamble of losing their man if they all wedged themselves into a single silhouette which the poor dope would have to take or leave as he had no other choice.

"Yes, and they'd be a thousand times more feminine," said Marinelli, emphatically. "The idea that any suggestion of abdomen or derriere is unattractive has been built up in women's minds during the past few years. And so each tries to outdo the other in hiding the beautiful lines with which she was blessed."

"HER OWN contours gave a more natural, flexible look instead of the appearance of hard compression—like a cork in a champagne bottle. She doesn't resemble every other woman, she has a grace of movement of her own. And she should dress to her own contours."

"Did you ever dance with a tightly girdled woman? It is like dancing with a—like dancing with—"

Like dancing with an oak tree, Mr. Marinelli:

"Oh, no, no! That is too rough. It is like dancing with a stuffed dress form in our arms!"

What about overly plump girls? Shouldn't they hesitate to shed their under-gown armor?

"Certainly not," said the designer. "At the most they should wear only a fine net bra and girdle which do not distort their figures. But no women need be fat. Intelligent dieting combined with exercise is nature's own method of corseting. Women should be like Greek statues—all beautiful, but each in its own way."

And what does your own wife think of your ideas, Mr. Marinelli?

"I am a bachelor," he said, a glint of long victory in his eyes.

They Must Be Overjoyed "Down Under"

Americans Know History

PHILADELPHIA

A LOT MORE people than you might think are surprisingly well informed about and interested in American history.

That's the conclusion of Attorney Arthur Littleton. He was the victim of a reporter's embarrassing mistake that brought to light the widespread interest in one incident, and brought him a basketful of mail.

Littleton is chancellor of the Philadelphia Bar Association. Recently in a luncheon speech he detailed the origin of the phrase

"Philadelphia Lawyer" as it is used to describe an attorney or person who is astute, resourceful.

Quite correctly, Littleton said in the speech that the appellation was earned by Attorney Andrew Hamilton, of Philadelphia, who was counsel for John Peter Zenger in a famous New York libel suit in 1735.

Zenger, a pioneer printer and newspaper publisher, had declined to accept official censorship of his government exposés, and was arrested on charges of seditious libel instituted by the colonial governor, Cosby, that two New York lawyers who sought to defend Zenger were disbarred, which discouraged others from undertaking the defense.

Hamilton accepted the case and by his brilliant work in court earned acquittal for Zenger. To quote Littleton: "Without a shred of law with him he carried on one of the most magnificent defenses ever conducted before a jury."

An Associated Press reporter preparing a news story of Littleton's speech erroneously wrote that Littleton had identified the lawyer as "Alexander" Hamilton. The reporter added that this "Alexander" Hamilton was the first U.S. Secretary of the Treasury.

The story was widely published. And shortly afterwards Littleton began receiving chiding letters from strangers and friends. Correspondents from Maine to Florida, and as far west as Wisconsin and Kansas, wrote to point out that Alexander Hamilton, the first Secretary of the Treasury, was not born until 1757—22 years after the Zenger trial.

The letters came from school teachers and pupils, from retired army officers, bankers and lawyers, from relatives and friends.

One girl, a high school pupil, wrote that: "This may come as a shock to you, but Andrew Hamilton, and NOT Alexander, etc."

To each correspondent Littleton wrote a letter explaining that the error was not his but that of the reporter. Littleton says the one inescapable conclusion from the whole correspondence was that a great many persons know the correct version of the Zenger defense.

A man could even be running for the presidency of the United States in plain sight of everybody with two eyes, yet issue an official denial that he was doing anything of the kind and the denial would be given careful attention.

People were known to issue an official denial that the moon was not made of green cheese and be taken at their word. All card-bearing Communists in the country officially denied that fact—and even they were sometimes taken seriously.

It was officially denied that "flying saucers," whatever they were, had turned out to have been, were seen by anyone up to the time this apology was written early in April, 1950. That was the tipoff, posterity.

Because official denials, while they might be true, had fallen into such a state of disrepute that they practically amounted to official certification.

We were dumb, all right, back in these remote times, but we weren't that dumb. Please give us credit for what sense we had when you look back at us and wonder why we behaved so strangely. Maybe we didn't always know the score, but we knew how the game was played.

Please construe this as an official denial that we were stupid enough not to giggle behind our hands every time an official denial was issued.

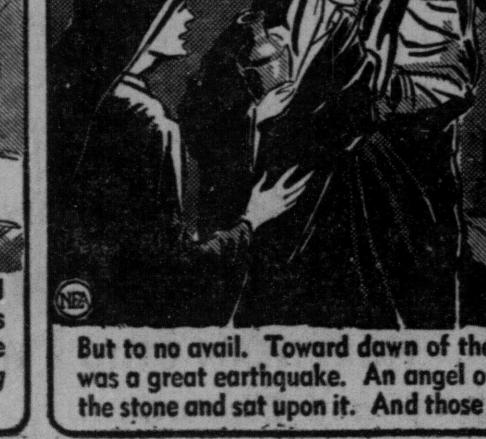

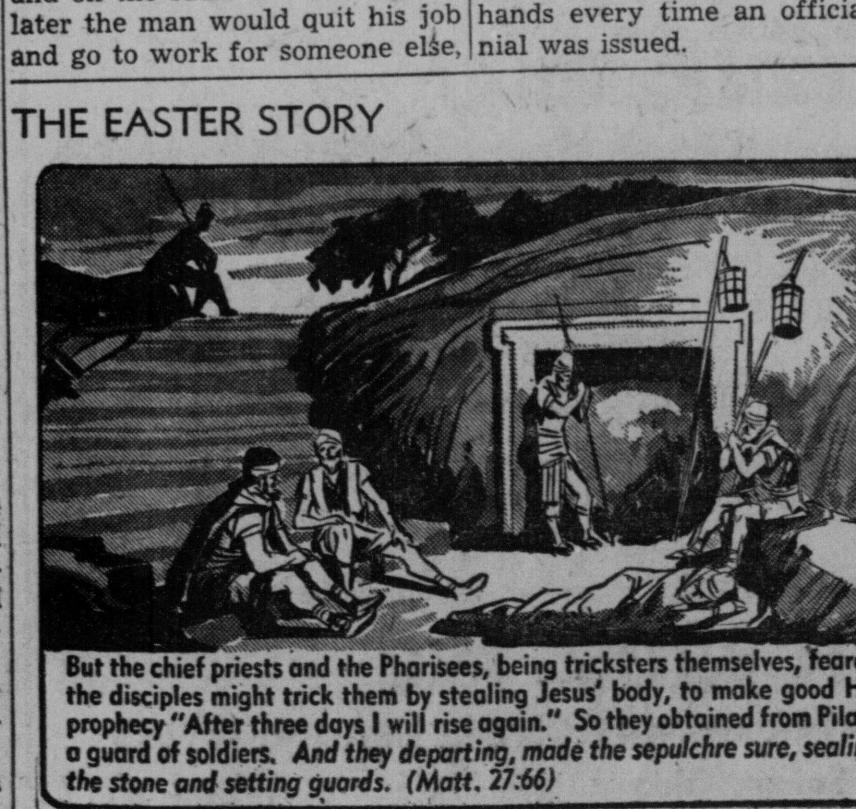

We would say unequivocally and absolutely that there was nothing to the report; that it had been put into circulation by malicious rumor-mongers; and that he had no personal knowledge of it whatsoever. This would be published in the press and on the radio and a few days later the man would quit his job and go to work for someone else.

That poor girl has been out doing one-night stands picking up thousand here, two thousand there just to help her father keep the elephant from the door.

They've both been "saving for Independence."

But there's nothing wrong with thrift and it's too bad more of us don't have enough of the stuff it takes to practice it with.

Christ Is Risen!

Big Words

Sly Rhetoricians Confuse Plebeians

WASHINGTON

HOW big words can be used by politicians to confuse the public is well illustrated by a story going the rounds in the Florida Democratic primary campaign. Rep. George A. Smathers is in a nip-and-tuck fight there to take the U.S. Senate seat away from Claude Pepper. Opponents of Pepper have started a whispering campaign against him.

"Senator Pepper," they confide, "is not only an extrovert, but he also practices nepotism."

If passed along in just the right tone of voice, this sounds terrible to the average Cracker, already badly confused by stories of Washington "perverts" and "Communism."

Nobody using this story takes the trouble to explain that an "extrovert" is merely a person who expresses himself vigorously, or that "nepotism" means giving your relatives a job.

Plan Girl Scout Jamboree May 25

A JAMBOREE for all the Girl Scout troops, Friday, May 26, is announced by Salem Council of Girl Scouts. This event will replace the former annual Day.

Mrs. Robert F. Eddy, president, officiated for the council's planning meeting Thursday in the Memorial building. Evaluation of previous activities was made.

Mrs. James Gregg, finance chairman, explained that many troops are conducting benefits to make money for their own camping expenses. In concurrence with this explanation, Mrs. Frederick Barckhoff, Jr., program chairman, expressed the desire to have the public understand that there is a difference between individual troop projects and council projects for camp costs. In addition to one annual City-wide cookie drive, council sponsored only one benefit this year. That was the Village Fair.

Services the girls expect to offer for their community this year, were also announced by Mrs.

Barckhoff. The girls will assist with several garden club activities, a conservation project, and also will continue sending Schoolmates Overseas bags, as international venture, through next fall.

Plans for a leaders spring training course May 23, were announced by Mrs. Niles Pettay, Jr., training chairman. There will also be an overnight camp training session June 2 and 3 at Camp Merridale, Girl Scout reservations had been added to her committee and board members.

Mrs. George R. Huston, organization committee chairman, reported that two new members had been added to her committee, Mrs. William Luce and Mrs. Russell Jones. Organization of one new troop also was reported. Mrs. Huston expressed need for more leaders.

Mrs. Lozier Caplan, council dinner chairman, stated that plans are underway for the quarterly council dinner May 18, which will be held at Perry grange hall.

Four Akron sisterhoods and one from Wadsworth had part in the induction rites. They were assisted by Deputy Omega Walk of Akron.

Guests were presented to the women of the visiting sisterhoods and the new officers. Corsages were also presented the officers.

Beautiful decorations in purple and gold tones, the sisterhood colors, were emphasized in flowers.

Plans were made to hold an anniversary party following the next meeting April 20. Entertainment will be provided by a committee composed of Leona Smith, Margaret Sherwood, Lucy Johnson and Martha Ellis.

Eight Teams Go Into Final Day; Akron, Kennedy's Hot

"This is the best group of teams we've ever had in our tournament," Joe Kelley said last night after watching six ball games yesterday. The list of survivors to eight in his Salem Independent cage tourney.

He's right, too. Eight top-flight ball clubs were set to begin quarter-final play at 12:15 today. They are: New Brighton Police, Vienna Scott Service, Salem Amvets 3, Berea, Salem Mullins, Akron Castings, Salem Colony Inn and East Liverpool Kennedy's.

Of the three Salem teams left in play, only Mullins is composed exclusively of Salem players. The other two are out-of-town clubs, backed by Salem sponsors.

Favorites among the first four teams in the top bracket are the Amvets, who include the fabulous Magula brothers of Pennsylvania. In the bottom bracket, it's almost a tossup between Akron and Kennedy's, both of whom looked rugged last night.

Kennedy's, sparked by lightning-fast Allen Bailey, former Potter star, rolled over Sharon Hoyle's, 59-41. Bailey, who seems to be the cleverest boy in the tourney, scored 19 points. Jim Harris, another ex-Potter, collected 15, and Dick Rutherford, 6-7 center, got 14.

Opposing Kennedy's this afternoon was the Colony Inn five, who had a first rate scare Friday. Eighteen points ahead of Morgantown at the half and 10 ahead at the end of the third period, Colony Inn relaxed in the fourth quarter and Morgantown got hot. It wound up a tight ball game, with the Morgantown group ahead 54-53 with seconds left. Two straight foul shots by Jerry Amico, Kent ace, clinched the thing for the winners. Amico, by the way, netted a mere 27 points for the night. Wertz had 20 for the losers.

New Brighton Police had no trouble in disposing of the Salem Amvets 2 team, 68-36, as they led by a wide margin all the way. Bill Stoudt paced the losers with 16 counters.

They'll meet the defending champion Vienna Scotts at 12:15 today. The Scotts were idle last night.

Amvets 3, who'll play Berea today, defeated a very good Farrell High team, 58-44, in a rough, fast game. Farrell's center, McCoy, a beautifully coordinated Negro boy, cut loose 23 points in the tilt, while Steve Magula led the Amvets with 18 tallies.

Berea, including Baldwin-Wallace Freshmen, won out over McDonald, 50-42, leading all the

Easter May Be Cleanup Hitter

Seems To Have Inside Track On Vital Job

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Apr. 8—(AP)—Don't be surprised if you find Luscious Luke Easter, Cleveland's rookie outfielder, batting in the cleanup slot when the Tribe opens the season.

Manager Lou Boudreau says he hasn't made up his mind yet, but he admits Easter "has as good a chance as anybody."

Boudreau said several weeks ago that second baseman Joe Gordon would serve as fourth-place hitter this year, but that was before Easter found his batting eye.

Both players have seven homers and have batted in a proportionate number of runs during the exhibition season. Gordon, however, doesn't like to fill the cleanup spot although Boudreau used him there more than any other player last season.

The Tribe was tied 5-5 in games with the New York Giants today following the Ohioans' 16-12 victory yesterday. Despite the astronomical score, the Indians found some encouragement in the victory.

After 30 innings with nothing better than a single, they got their offense going again and pounded out 13 hits, including two homers by Gordon and one by catcher Ray Murray.

Boudreau also got his first long hit in a month, a double, and Bob Feller looked far better than last Sunday when he was hit almost at will.

Feller allowed five runs on six hits in his six innings yesterday, but he kept the Giants without a hit for the first four frames.

The Indians got two hits in the fifth and four more in the sixth when four men came across the plate.

Steve Gromek, who took over for Feller, blanked the New Yorkers without a hit until the ninth, when they scored seven runs on six hits, two walks and a hit batsman. Jesse Flores finally was called in to pitch the final out.

The two clubs play two games here, one today and one tomorrow. Sam Zoldak was selected to start against the Giants' Jack Kramer today.

Cincy Leading Grapefruit Loop

Detroit Paces Junior Circuit; Tribe Third

If springtime form to date holds true for the impending major league baseball season—which it usually doesn't—it'll be Cincinnati against Detroit in the World Series.

Cincinnati, the National League's perennial power in the sunshine belt, tops the 16 major league clubs in the mythical Grapefruit League with a 15-8 record for a .652 percentage.

Red Roife's Tigers, regarded as the American League dark horse, lead that circuit with a .611 mark on 11 victories and seven setbacks. Figures, including games of last night, embrace only those games against major league opposition.

Here's the current exhibition standings. Figures include games of last night and are for games against major league opposition only. Figures in parenthesis denote last year's regular season finish.

Entry fee: Team, $40; two-man $16; individual $8; all events $3.

Total entry fees: $616,230.

Prize list: $377,000.

Cost of alleys, decorations, concession booths, ABC offices, padding, etc.: $277,000.

Now, right there, pops up a question. If you add the $377,000 prize list, and the $277,000 cost of construction, etc., you get (let me see now) $654,000.

begin to wonder if the ABC and the USA are cooperating on the same plan, for it looks as if the ABC is taking in $616,230 in entry fees and paying out $654,000.

But the "gimmick" is this. The Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co. puts down the alleys (36 of 'em) at a cost of $7,000 per pair, and then rents the alleys to the ABC at 10 per cent of the $126,000 total, or $12,600.

Thus the ABC's cost—up to there—is only $540,600 of the $616,230 entry fee. Pin rental, office help and incidentals eat up the rest of the surplus.

THE BRUNSWICK company, at the end of the tourney, sells the alleys to proprietors at about 90 per cent of their cost. The runways at the big Coliseum have been installed, and the finishing touches now are being put on.

Each team will bowl at brand new pins, ranging in weight from three pounds three ounces to three pounds six ounces. After a team bowls its five-man, doubles and singles at a set of pins, the maples are boxed and sold to alley owners.

Bowlers are not permitted to smoke or drink on the alleys, but quite a few of the pin-crashers chew "dead" cigars while rolling.

Each ball must measure up to weight and balance requirements, and a new three-position scale will be in use for the first time this year to test the 16-pounders.

Just one of those things, just one of those things," Hamey declared a few hours after the Bucs optioned outfielder Dino Restelli to Indianapolis of the American Association on a 24-hour recall basis.

Restelli is the young man who gave Hamey high blood pressure and set the National League afire for a short time last year when he broke in with a flurry of high-powered hitting.

In his first 12 games with the Pirates, he belted out seven homers and his batting average soared past the .360 mark. That was in June.

Howell Discusses Annual

A. B. C. Bowling Tournament

By FRITZ HOWELL
COLUMBUS, April 8—(AP)—

The ABC's of the ABC.

The 47th annual American Bowling Congress opens April 15 at the state fairgrounds Coliseum, and runs for 60 days and nights.

It will be so noisy that even your Uncle Henry, without his hearing aid can hear the pins drop.

Here's a quick look at what's what as the who's who of the tenpin sport get ready for the annual classic.

Entry list: 5109 five-man teams; 11,155 two-man teams; 22,393 individuals; all-events entrants, 17,982.

Entry fee: Team, $40; two-man $16; individual $8; all events $3.

The top 20 per cent of the field in each class will share in the widely-spread prize list. First prize in the five-man is $2,500, doubles $1,000, singles $500 and all-events $1,000. To land in the prize list (at the lower end) teams will have to total approximately 2,675, doubles 1,100, singles 560 and all-events 1,670.

In seven tries in the ABC this scribe has never won a penny of prize money, but has had some $1,000,000 worth of fun.

Kidnapped Girl Found; Youth Is Arrested

COVINA, Calif., April 8—(AP)—A 17-year-old high school girl was kidnapped from her boy friend early today by a gunman who drove away with her for a wild ride through the hills in her boy friend's car.

Five and one-half hours later she was found, scared but safe. A youth found with her was booked on suspicion of kidnapping, robbery and sexual perversion.

Sheriff's Sgt. William Wells said the girl, Dulcy Nelson, told him the gunman drove her to a lonely spot in the La Puente hills 10 miles northeast of here. At gunpoint, Wells quoted the girl, he forced her to submit to improper relations but she was not raped.

FBI Gets One Of Its 10 Most Wanted Men

DAYTON BEACH, Fla., April 8—(AP)—The FBI tracked down one of its ten most wanted men through a bit of information gleaned from the check of a slain fugitive's automobile license.

Lee Emory Downs, 43, sought in connection with the $10,800 burglary of a San Jose, Calif., telephone office in June, 1948, and his 25-year-old wife Patricia were seized at their luxurious house trailer in nearby Holley Hill yesterday.

They are charged with unlawful flight to avoid prosecution for the San Jose burglary, the FBI said. Downs was a known associate of Walter Lennon who was killed Wednesday near Mojave, Calif., while resisting arrest by the FBI and the California highway patrol, according to the FBI.

When the Montana license on Lennon's car was checked, it disclosed the registration of the trailer which Downs was using. The FBI after a nationwide search of trailer camps found its quarry in Florida winter resort where Downs and his wife had been living four months.

Fund Cutoff Threat Made To Korea

WASHINGTON, April 8—(AP)—Korea may get its steady stream of American cash choked down unless it cleans house financially and holds democratic elections soon.

Secretary of State Acheson scolded the Korean government in a note made public yesterday for:

1. Failing to take drastic measures against inflation.

2. Proposing to put off until elections scheduled for next month.

3. Said that if Korea doesn't do something effective, the United States will "re-examine and perhaps make adjustments" in the current cash and military aid program.
